

Biographies

Dr. Agni Vlavianos-Arvanitis founded the Biopolitics International Organisation (B.I.O.) in 1985, after having dedicated over 20 years to teaching and research in biology. In 1990, she launched the International University for the Bio-Environment (I.U.B.E.) and, in 1992, a campaign for Bios Prizes and cease-fire during the Olympics. A recipient of many high distinctions, she was elected, along with M. Gorbachev, N. Mandela and M. Strong, Honorary President for Life by the UNA of Sri Lanka, and is also an Abdi Ipekci Peace and Friendship Prize laureate. She is Vice President of the International Bio-Ethics Society, Member of the Journal of Cleaner Production Advisory Board, Vice President of the UNESCO-MAB Hellenic National Committee, Commissioner on the Global Commission to Fund the UN, Corresponding Member of the Pontifical Academy for Life, Member of the Board of the Euro-Arab Co-operation Centre, Member of the Board of Trustees of the Uganda National Foundation for Research and Development, Founding Member of the Balkan Academy of Sciences, New Culture and Sustainable Development, and Member of the New York Academy of Sciences, the International Academy of Ecology, Human and Nature Safety Sciences, the Hellenic Philosophical Society and the National Society of Greek Writers. Author of poetry books, she is also Honorary Professor of St. Petersburg State University for Plant Polymers and has an Honorary Doctorate from Mendeleyev University.

Dr. Francis A. Batzias is a Professor at the Piraeus Graduate School of Industrial Studies.

Professor Constantinos Bonis, President of the Academy of Athens and President of the Archaeological Society of Greece, has been a Professor of Theology at the Universities of Athens and Salonica. He has published numerous books and articles and has received high distinctions both nationally and internationally.

Professor Gyula Bora graduated from the Budapest University of Economics. He was a Candidate for Science in Geography, and was sponsored by the Ford Foundation for his postdoctoral fellowship at the University of Chicago. He also studied US environmental policy on a WHO fellowship. Professor Bora works in the Department of Economic Geography at the Budapest University of Economics where he has also held the position of Vice Dean of the Faculty of Commerce and Vice Rector for Scientific and International affairs. His scientific activities include regional studies, industrial plant location, consulting for regional organisation and research on environmental protection model building. He has been involved in several national and international research projects, and has been Acting President of the Hungarian UN Association and President of the Hungarian Geographic Society.

Professor Andrew Brennan holds degrees in philosophy from the Universities of Saint Andrews, Calgary and Oxford. He joined the Stirling Philosophical Department in 1970, and since then has been a visiting fellow in philosophy at Princeton University and visiting Professor at Calgary. He presently edits the Scots Philosophical Monograph Series and the MacMillan Studies in Contemporary Philosophy. Analysis, Nus, Enquiry, Synthese, and other philosophical and educational journals, have featured his articles. Conditions of Identity and Thinking about Nature are two of his books which were published in 1988.

Professor Spyros Calogeropoulos-Stratis, President of the Greek United Nations Association, received his Doctorat d'Etat from the University of Paris. He is a recipient of the Decoration of Grand Commander of the Order of Saint Marc, Grand Officer of the Order of King George I, and a Chevalier of the French Legion of Honour. He has served as Rector of the Faculty of Political Sciences, and the Faculty of Commercial and Economic Sciences in Athens, and as Associate Professor at the University of Grenoble. He has taught at the Institute of International Studies of the University of Paris, and the University of Geneva. He served as President of the National Tourism Organisation of Greece, and is presently a Member of the Board of Directors of the National Bank of Greece. He has published numerous books and articles on international affairs.

Professor Tham Seong Chee is a world expert on sociology and anthropology, with special reference to the Malay-Indonesian culture. He is currently teaching at the National University of Singapore's Department of Malay Studies, of which he was Departmental Head from 1989 to 1997. Other positions previously held include membership of the Board of Trustees at the Institute of Southeast Asian Studies from 1971 to 1974 and from 1979 to 1995, of the Board of Advisers at the Singapore National Library from 1971 to 1979, of the Board of Advisers at the Ford Foundation Regional Advisory Committee on Southeast Asian Studies from 1971 to 1983, and of the MENDAKI Social and Cultural Affairs Committee, in 1990. Furthermore, he was Vice-Chairman of the UNESCO Advisory Committee on the Study of Southeast Asian Cultures from 1981 to 1983, Vice-President of the Singapore Association for the Advancement of Science as from 1983, and President of the UN Association of Singapore from 1980 onwards. He has seen several of his articles, papers and book reviews published in international journals, and has himself been Editor of the Review of Southeast Asian Studies from 1969 to 1975, and a Member of the Regional Advisory Board at the Southeast Asian Journal of Social Change (SOJOURN) from 1985 onwards. He has published widely on the topic of the Malay and Singapore societies and is a member of the International Board of Trustees of the Biopolitics International Organisation.

Professor Juraj Cuth studied law at Comenius University in the Slovak Republic. He became Professor of International Law and Politics at Bratislava University, as well as Dean of the Faculty of Law. He is currently President of the Court of Arbitration of the Slovak Chamber of Commerce and Industry, and a member of the European Arbitration Group of the International Court of Arbitration of the International Chamber of Commerce. His many publications include papers on various aspects of law as well as studies on the environmental and peace movements.

The late Michael F. Dearing, M.I.Env.Sc., Assistant Professor of Psychology at Deree, the American College of Greece, has worked at Southern Illinois University, Denison University, the Laboratory of Experimental Psychology, Sussex University (U.K.), the American Summer School in London, and the Oakwood Psychiatric Hospital. He was a member of the Association of the British Psychological Society, CHEIRON(International Society for the History of Behavioral and Social Sciences), the Institution of Environmental Sciences, and the International Association for the Study of People and their Physical Surroundings. He produced a number of publications relating to psychology.

Dr. Konstantina Akrida-Demertzi has received her B.Sc. from the University of Patras, and her Ph.D. in Food Technology from the University of Ioannina.

Professor Richard Eells received A.B., M.A. and LL.D. degrees from Whitman College and Princeton University and is presently Professor of Business (Emeritus) at Columbia University, and Special Advisor to the President of Columbia University; also Special Advisor to the President of the New York Botanical Garden. During his past 15 years service at Columbia University he was Director of Studies of the Modern Corporation, Adjunct Professor of Business, and Councillor to the Dean of Graduate School of Business. Previously, Manager of Public Policy Research, General Electric Company (NYC) for ten years. Field Director, Near East College Association (AUB and others). Following military service in the USAF, he was Chief of the Division of Aeronautics and Holder of the Guggenheim Chair of Aeronautics, The Library of Congress (Washington, D.C.). He has received grants from the Rockefeller Foundation and Sloan Foundation and has served as consultant to IBM, GE, Rockefeller Bros. Fund, and others. He is the author and co-author of fifteen books on corporate social policy matters and the editor of thirty-five volumes on business matters.

The Right Honourable Lord David Ennals was educated in the U.K. and the U.S.A. He has held ministerial posts in the Home Office, the Foreign Office, and the Ministries of Defence, Health and Social Security. During the late 1970s he was member of the British Cabinet and became a member of the House of Lords in 1983. He is presently the Chairman of the UN Association of the UK, the Ockelden Venture for refugees, the National Association for Mental Health, the Parliamentary Food and Health Forum, the Children's Medical Charity, and the Asian Committee of the British Refugee Council, and President of the College of Occupational Therapy and the National Society of Non-Smokers.

Retired Ambassador Achilles Exarchos has studied Law at the University of Salonica and did post-graduate studies in public administration and management at the U.S. Bureau of the Budget, as well as in economics and public finance at American University and at the University of Rome. As Ambassador, he has represented Greece in Nigeria and has served as permanent representative of Greece at the UN\FAO, WFP, and WFC in addition to being the governor for Greece for the International Monetary Fund for Agricultural Development. He has been decorated as Commander of the Greek Order of the Phoenix, as Commander of the Bulgarian Order of the Knight of Madara, as Knight of the Italian Order of Merit, and with the Cross 1st Class of the Rumanian Order of Theodore Vladimirescu.

Peter H. Feeg, Director of WFUNA in Vienna studied economics, history, law, and political sciences at the Universities of Vienna, Cracow, Zagreb, and Michigan State. He has been deputy editor-in-chief of the periodical Osterreich und die Vereinten Nationen, and coordinator of projects in social fields, such as care for the disabled, youth problems, the status of women, and narcotic abuse. He has been the Secretary-General and President of UNSAA, vice-President of the Austrian Association of UN and UNESCO Clubs, Chairman of the Vienna NGO Committee on Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substances, and advisor to the Indian Social Research Institute.

Dr. Ulrich Fegeler studied medicine in the Universities of Bonn and Berlin, and obtained a Doctor of Medicine degree from the Free University of Berlin. As pediatrician at the Red Cross Rittburg Hospital for children he specialised in pediatric cardiology and became Assistant Medical Director in 1985. His publications deal with the effect of air pollution and its role on respiratory diseases in children.

Kumaran Fernando is Founder and Secretary General of the United Nations Association of Sri Lanka and has represented the UNA at conferences all over the world. Founder and Chairman of the Flag Research Centre of Sri Lanka, the only one of its kind in Asia and Africa, he has been a member of many professional organisations including the Audubon Society of America, and is an honorary member of the UN Associations of the UK and the USA, as well as the Sagala Trust and the VASLA Flag Society.

Professor Andreas Grohmann is with the Institute for Water, Soil and Air Hygiene of the Federal Health Office, Berlin, Germany.

Professor Rom Harre, born in New Zealand, obtained a B.Sc. in engineering and mathematics, and an M.A. in philosophy and anthropology from the University of Auckland. He has been a lecturer of physics and mathematics at King's College, Auckland, and the University of Punjab, and a lecturer in philosophy of science in the University of Leicester and Oxford University. He has written the following books: An Introduction to the Logic of Science, Matter and Method, The Anticipation of Nature, The Principles of Scientific Thinking, The Philosophies of Science, and Great Experiments.

Dr. Cleanthis J. Israelidis, presently Professor of Biology at Southeastern College in Athens, studied at the University of Thessaloniki. He continued his studies with a Fulbright scholarship at the University of Oregon where he received his M.S. and Ph.D. In post-doctoral work he continued his research in biotechnology at M.I.T. and the University of Canterbury. Presently, he works as a consultant to the Greek Ministry of Agriculture in food technology programs, as well as to the Ministry of Research and Technology and has published papers on animal feed technology.

Dr. Vassiliki Kalfakakou has degrees in Natural Sciences and Biology from the University of Athens, and an M.D. from the University of Ioannina. She participated in a post doctoral project on trace metals at King's College University of London, and is presently teaching at the Medical Faculty of the University of Ioannina. She has participated in a research project at the Greek Ministry of the Environment on the treatment of the municipal sewage's of Ioannina. Her research interests are in the role of carcinogens and anticarcinogens, especially heavy metals, in the physiology of the cell and of the urinary system. She has published articles in these fields, and is co-author of books on physiology and pollution in the district of Ioannina.

Professor Achilles C. Kanellopoulos, Dean of Southeastern College, Athens, obtained his Diploma in Mining and Metallurgical Engineering from the Technical University of Athens and his Ph.D. from the University of Capetown. He has acted as Managing Director of Middle East Development Consultants and Technical Advisor in the Ministry of Public Works. He has published articles on mining, especially of quartzite.

A. Henry Karunaratne received his M.Sc. in Economics in London. A Senior Life-Member of the UN Associations, he presently chairs the Executive Committee of the UNA of Sri Lanka.

Professor Rusen Keles is Director of Environmental Studies on the Faculty of Political Science at Ankara University. He has served as President of the United Nations Association of Turkey and, in addition to providing advisory services to local government agencies, he has also been a consultant to the Council of Europe and the United Nations. Recipient of the Abdi Ipekci Prize for Peace and Friendship, he has published more than 30 books and reports and is a member of a number of national and international organisations, including B.I.O. Trustee.

Dr. Thomas S. Kemp obtained his M.A. and Ph.D. from Cambridge University. He is presently curator of the Zoological Collections and lecturer in zoology, Oxford University, and a fellow of St. John's College, Oxford. His research interests include vertebrate palaeontology, theory of evolution, and taxonomy. He has edited and published books on the topics of evolution and the origin of mammals.

Dr. Ing. Gunther Klein, in addition to being a concert singer, and chairman of the Committee for Freedom and Responsibility of Scientific Work in the German Society of Chemists, he has been active in environmental research related to marine biology, aquatic chemistry, lake restoration. As head of the Biological Laboratory of the Drinking Water Hygiene Department of the Federal Health Office of Germany in Berlin, he has advised engineering societies for water supply and treatment systems in developing countries.

Haim Klugman, Esq., director general of the Ministry of Justice and Chief Judge of the Disciplinary Tribunal of the Israel Broadcasting Authority, has been chairman of the Interministerial Committee for Ecology, the Government Lawyers Association, and a member of the Central Committee of the Israel Bar Association.

Dr. Phillip S. Lobel, received his B.A. in Zoology from the University of Hawaii and a Ph.D. in Biology from Harvard University. He is presently assistant scientist at the Woods Hole

Oceanographic Institute and associate in oceanography, Center for Earth and Planetary Physics, Harvard University, co-chairman of the Biology Working Group and a Steering Committee member, he is involved in the Hawaiian Oceanographic Experiment and is author of numerous articles on the topics of oceanography and ichthyology. He is a recipient of many academic and research awards.

Professor Horst Malberg, from the Federal Republic of Germany, was awarded the Diploma in meteorology and climatology in 1965. He received a Ph.D. in the same field and became a Professor in 1970. Since then, he has been the acting Director at the Institute of Meteorology at the Berlin Free University and has carried out research in the fields of air pollution, synoptic meteorology, satellite meteorology and urban climate.

Professor George M. Maniatis obtained his M.D. and Med.Sci. from the University of Athens Medical School, and a Ph.D. in biochemistry from M.I.T. A former Rector of the University of Patras and visiting Professor to M.I.T., he is presently the President of the Hellenic Society for Human Genetics, and Professor and Director of Biology at the University of Patras Medical School. He is a recipient of the "Medical Foundation Fellow", and the "J.T. Hirschl Career Scientist" awards.

Professor Emmanuel E. Marcoglou received his B.A. in government and international relations, and M.A. in international relations, from the University of Connecticut, and his Ph.D. from New York University, Government Department-Area Studies Program, Middle Eastern and African Section. He is presently a Professor at Deree, the American College of Greece, and is Division Manager and advisor of the American Life Insurance Company, and a Scholarship Trustee of the Hellenic Canadian Association. He has published many articles on American-Greek relations, and has served as former Foreign Editor of the Athenian weekly, the Greek-American review "Ellinika Chronika".

Professor Dr. Andreja Miletic graduated from the Faculty of Law, University of Belgrade, and received a Diplome d'Etudes Superieures Europeennes, Centre Europeen Universitaire, Universite de Nancy, France. He obtained a Ph.D. in Political Sciences from the Faculty of Political Sciences, Belgrade, where he now works as Professor of International Relations. He is President of the UN Association of Yugoslavia and a member of the Executive Committee of the World Federation of United Nations. He has written two books and many articles on the Theory of International Relations, United Nations, Security and Disarmament.

James P. Muldoon Jr. received a B.A. from St. Louis University and an M.A. in Political Science from Miami University, Ohio. He earned a Certificate as a Specialist of European Community Operations. He joined the White House as a Correspondence Analyst, and later the American Enterprise Institution where he worked as research assistant for AEI scholar Michael Novak. He is now Assistant Field Director of the UNA-USA and responsible for the Model UN and the Youth Department.

Hilkka M. Pietila received her M.Sc. in Nutrition, from the University of Helsinki. She has been a member of the Executive Committee of WFUNA, a member of the Finnish National Commission for UNESCO, the International Foundation for Development Alternatives Council, the Association of Home Economists in Finland and is now vice-President of WFUNA. She has published articles in a great number of international conferences and for her feminist ideas and activities.

Dolores F. Schell holds a degree in Interior Design from the University of Manitoba, has studied macro- and micro-economics, organisational behavior and administrative law. She has worked at the Grain Marketing Bureau of the Department of External Affairs in Ottawa as a market and policy analyst with specific responsibilities for monitoring the European Community and has served on the Board of Directors of the Transformation Research Network.

Professor Michael J. Scoullos obtained an M.Sc. and D.Sc. from the University of Athens and later received a Ph.D. in Oceanography from the University of Liverpool, and a Professorship of Environmental and Marine Chemistry from the University of Athens. He is President of the Greek National Committee of the University of Athens and the Greek National Committee of the European Environment Bureau, and the E.E.B., and a member of the Mediterranean Scientific Association for Environmental Protection, the European Association for Marine Sciences and Technology, the Greek National Commission for UNESCO, and the Environment Group of the Society of Chemical Industry in the United Kingdom.

Professor Constantinos Sekeris, a specialist in biochemistry, cell and molecular biology, is currently Director of the Biological Research Center, Professor of Biochemistry at the University of Athens and Honorary Professor of Heidelberg. He has published extensively in the fields of hormone action, eukaryotic, molecular and cell biology, and insect developmental biology. He is a member of several professional societies and organisations, some of which are: the Hellenic Bio-Chemical and Biophysical Society, the German Society of Biological Chemistry, the Biochemical Society of the UK, EMBO, and the Hellenic Society of Biological Research.

Dr. Liduvina R. Senora holds a Ph.D. in educational management and supervision. She is Executive Secretary of the UN Association of the Philippines, president of the National Federation of UNESCO Clubs and Associated Schools in the Philippines, and vice-president of the Asian Federation of UNESCO Clubs and Associations in Tokyo, Japan. She has published several books dealing with education and social studies and has been a member of the Executive Committee of the World Federation of UNESCO Clubs and Associations. In recognition of her efforts for the realisation of world peace, international understanding and co-operation, Dr. Senora has received many national honorary awards.

Dr. Guy Sergheraert received his Ph.D. in Pharmacology from the University of Lille, France. He has been Director-General for Quality Control and Production Director for Groupes Pharmaceutiques. Presently, he directs the Centre de Valorisation des Glucides et Produits Naturels in Amiens, France, whose aim is to enlarge the dimensions of biotechnology and to enhance greater respect of the bio-environment.

Professor Udo Simonis is a research professor in environmental policy at the Science Centre Berlin and former member of the German Advisory Council on Global Environment Change. He studied economics at the University of Mainz and the University of Freiburg, and received a Ph.D. from the University of Kiel. His previous positions include Personal Advisor to the President of Zambia, Research Fellow at the University of Tokyo, Professor of Economics at the Technical University of Berlin, Visiting Professor at the Chinese University of Hong Kong and Director of the International Institute for Environment and Society at the Science Centre Berlin. Professor Simonis is the Chairman of the Association of German Scientists and a member of the Advisory Committee of the Development and Peace Foundation.

Professor Antonio Manuel de Sousa Otto teaches at the University of Algarve. As Director General Adjoint for Development in Mozambique, and as General Director of the Ministry of Industry and Trade in Portugal, he has had numerous responsibilities relating to industrial and environmental development both in Portugal and in Mozambique. He has published articles on land survey and agronomy.

Peter Stavroulakis obtained a Ph.D. in Electrical Engineering from New York University. He has worked at Bell Laboratories on new telecommunications services. He spent three years at Oakland University and two years at the University of Athens. He has been managing director of ATT International (Greece) Ltd., and is presently marketing the entire NYNEX product/services portfolio in Europe. He serves on the Board of Editors of the Journal of the Society for Machine Intelligence. He has prepared and edited two special issues in the Benchmark Book series and co-edited a special issue of the Journal of the Franklin Institute. His publications include a book on satellite intersystem interference and numerous technical papers and journals.

Dr. Erich Taubert studied biology, pedagogics and psychology at the Universities of Vienna, Jena and Leipzig. He is currently a Professor of Physiology and Health Education at the Teachers Training College at Erfurt, an active member of the UNA, and a leading member of the National Health Education Committee.

The principal Administrative Officer in the Federal Civil Service of Nigeria, Justina Nkiru Uwechue is a barrister-at-law of the Supreme Court of Nigeria. She is also Vice-President of the UN Association of Nigeria, a member of the Nigerian Institute of International Affairs, and an ex-member of the Board of Trustees of Southern Africa Relief Fund (SARF).

Androulla Vassiliou, barrister-at-law, has studied law and international relations at the Middle Temple Inn of Court and University College London. She has organised numerous UN meetings in Cyprus, and served as vice-Chairperson of the Executive Committee of WFUNA and as Secretary-General of the UNA of Cyprus. She is a member of the Cyprus Association for Equal Rights and Duties for Men and Women and vice-Chairperson of the Committee for the Restoration of Human Rights Throughout Cyprus.

Melchior Wathelet, Vice-Prime Minister of Belgium and Minister of Justice, former Minister-President in charge of New Technologies and External Relations for the Walloon Government (Belgium), received Economic and law degrees from the University of Liege, and a Master of Law from Harvard University. He has been a City Council member, a member of the Belgian Parliament and a guest Professor at the Catholic University of Louvain.

Dr. David Watts, Dean of the School of Earth Resources at the University of Hull, is the founder-editor and chairman, Board of Advisors, of the Journal of Biogeography. He is chairman of the First International Congress of Biogeography (1989) and has published articles and books, including: Man's Influence on the Vegetation of Barbados, Principles of Biogeography and Development, Culture and Environmental Change in the West Indies. He is currently a Consultant for the Seeds of Change Program at the Smithsonian Institution, Washington D.C.

Professor Dr. Ernst Ulrich von Weizsaecker is the Director of the Institute for European Environmental Policy, with branches in Bonn, Paris and London. He has received the Diploma of Hamburg University for his studies in Chemistry and Physics, and the Dr. rer. nat. from Freiburg University in Biology. He continued with interdisciplinary research in Heidelberg, and served as Full Professor for Interdisciplinary Biology at Essen University. He was Founding President of the University of Kassel, and Director at the United Nations Centre for Science and Technology for Development. His numerous publications are in the fields of environmental policy, the theory of open systems, technology policy and university education.

Dr. Anastasios Zouboulis graduated in Chemistry and obtained a Ph.D. in Chemical Technology and Environmental Engineering at the University of Thessaloniki, where he is now a lecturer at the Laboratory of General and Inorganic Chemical Technology. He is the author of many articles and papers in this field.