

BIOPOLITICS INTERNATIONAL ORGANISATION

Contemporary Water Realities – Mount Hymettus

Thursday, 15 November 2012

Divani Caravel Hotel, 17:00 to 20:30

The President and Board of Trustees of the Biopolitics International Organisation invite you to an event

under the auspices of the Mayor of Kaisariani, Mr. Antonis Kambakas

Scientific Committee

Agni Vlavianos Arvanitis, President and Founder, Biopolitics International Organisation
George Stournaras, Professor of Hydrogeology and Engineering Geology, University of Athens

Michael Scoullos, Director of the Environmental Chemistry Laboratory, University of Athens, Chairman, Mediterranean Information Office for Environment, Culture and Sustainable Development MIO-ECSDE

George Stamatis, Professor of Hydrogeology, Faculty of Sciences Agricultural University of Athens, President, Hellenic Committee of Hydrogeology

Program

Chair: Professor Agni Vlavianos Arvanitis

Greeting: Antonis Kambakas, Mayor of Kaisariani

World and Hellenic water situation

Professor George Stournaras

Challenges for water management in Greece and the Mediterranean

Professor Michael Scoullos

Hydrogeological status of Mt. Hymettus – the use of groundwater reserves for the development and protection of the natural environment

Professor George Stamatis

Conclusions and open discussion

