Climate Change – Biopolicy and Development

Comments and Feedback

President Juncker has asked me to thank you for the kind autographed copy of your book "Climate Change Mitigation – biopolicy and development." We read your well-researched and most inspiring book with interest. Many congratulations for your work and again thank you very much indeed for the copy of the book. We wish you all the best in your future endeavours. Telmo Baltazar, Cabinet of Jean-Claude Juncker, President of the European Commission

Your book on Climate Change – Biopolicy and Development encapsulates all that is important and critical to understanding the impact and challenges facing climate change. It would and should serve as a basic reference and guide, for policy makers, researchers and environment groups. Your years of hard-work, love and devotion to the cause of bios shines through every page of the book. Thank you again. Professor Tham Seong Chee, President, United Nations Association of Singapore

Your book has been used as one of our sources for setting up the circular economy model for transport. I wish you well. Violeta Bulc, European Commissioner for Mobility and Transport

Many thanks for your relevant publication on "Climate Change – Biopolicy & Development." We are facing potential irreversible processes and points of no return can be reached if we do not react. Federico Mayor, Fundación Cultura de Paz, Ciudad Universitaria de Cantoblanco, Spain

Με ιδιαίτερη χαρά έλαβα το νέο σας βιβλίο για την Κλιματική Αλλαγή. Η αντιμετώπιση αυτού του φαινομένου και η προστασία του περιβάλλοντος αποτελούν, όπως γνωρίζετε ύψιστη προτεραιότητα για την Ευρωπαϊκή Επιτροπή. Συγχαρητήρια για την εμπνευσμένη σας δουλειά. Δημήτρης Αβραμόπουλος, Επίτροπος Μετανάστευσης, Εσωτερικών Υποθέσεων και Ιθαγένειας της Ευρωπαϊκής Ένωσης

I wish to thank you very much for your excellent book on climate change and biopolicy. You did a great job summarizing the essential facts on climate change and what humans can do to reduce the dangers. You were absolutely right linking those challenges with the edifice of Biopolitics, which you have been building up over several decades. The gallery at the end serves as a truly impressive documentation of what you done over many years. This alone merits great congratulations. Prof. Ernst Ulrich von Weizsäcker, Co-President, The Club of Rome

Wonderful piece of work. As long as we have people like you this planet still has a chance!! Anis Bajrektarevic, Professor and Chairperson International Law & Global Political Studies

Thank you for the complimentary copies of the publication on "Climate Change – Biopolicy & Development," which I find extremely useful in the current global context marked by climate change challenges that require a complex and targeted approach. It would be my pleasure to forward one of the copies to the relevant authority in Romania and also forward the information about your e-learning platform, which offers valuable e-learning courses on environmental issues. I am looking forward to further future opportunities to build on our cooperation. Lucian Fătu, Ambassador of Romania in Athens

Thank you very much for the interesting documents. May I compliment you for your obligation! Professor Franz Josef Radermacher, Forschungsinstitut fuer anwendungsorientierte Wissensverarbeitung, Germany

On behalf of Commissioner Moscovici I thank you very much for having sent him your book "Climate Change – Biopolicy and Development. Cecilia Sena Da Silva, Cabinet of Commissioner Pierre Moscovici, Economic and Financial Affairs, Taxation and Customs

I thank you for the two complimentary copies of the publication entitled "Climate Change – Biopolicy & Development," which I will share with my team. I wish Biopolitics International Organisation continued success. Keith Morrill, Ambassador of Canada in Athens

Best wishes and congratulations for your publication. Ambassador Elena Kirtcheva, Vienna Economic Forum

Hearty thanks for two reviews about your glorious new works!!! Professor Wojciech Kosinski, Krakow Academy, University of Technology, Jagiellonian University, Polish Academy Of Sciences P.A.N., Polish Academy of Arts P.A.U.

There should be more people like you. Rok W. Sonnegg, General Manager, Inter-Tax Consultants, Switzerland

Congratulations for your new book and EU statement. Best personal wishes for the success of your campaign. Pierre Laconte, President, Foundation for the Urban Environment, Belgian Delegation, Past-President, International Society of City and Regional Planners – ISOCARP

I would like to compliment you for this wonderful work of creating awareness around the world on the impacts of a changing climate on our planet that have direct bearing on our lives. No need saying that the professors and scientists are the real hope for the human race. Complimenting you again for this extraordinary work, I assure you of my highest consideration. Khalid Usman Qasier, Ambassador of Pakistan in Athens

Thank you for sharing these documents with me. Professor Ismail Serageldin, Director, Library of Alexandria

Thanks for your everlasting energy, inspiration and clear words. I remember your statement about the three dimensional approach and the pressing need to "shift from 'react-and-cure' strategies to 'anticipate-and-prevent' strategies," at our symposium in 2001. Fons Elders, Emeritus Professor, President, Forum 2001 Foundation, The Netherlands

On behalf of Commissioner Stylianides, thank you very much for the signed copy of your publication on the role of biopolicy and development given the climate change phenomenon. We fully share your concerns; one of the roles of our humanitarian aid is increasing the resilience of populations against these sorts of climate phenomena. Our goal is to help prepare for such crises in the best way possible. We wish you every success in your endeavours. Davinia Wood, Member of the Commissioner's Cabinet, Humanitarian Aid & Crisis Management

On behalf of Vice-President Dombrovskis I thank you for your publication on "Climate Change – Biopolicy & Development." We have taken note of the content of the publication and look forward to working with you in the future. Luize Kurme, Cabinet of Valdis Dombrovskis, Vice-President for the Euro and Social Dialogue, also in charge of Financial Stability, Financial Services and Capital Markets Union

Climate change is a very important and interesting topic nowadays, so we believe that the publication on Climate Change – Biopolicy & Development, as well as the e-learning course will be very useful. Maria Kvasnickova, Embassy of the Czech Republic in Athens
